1. Mission Statement

The Mission of Cuyahoga County Juvenile Court reflects its philosophy and mandates, broadly defines its services, the clients served and the outcomes expected and establishes standards for moving the Court toward its vision of the future.

THE MISSION OF THE CUYAHOGA COUNTY JUVENILE COURT IS:

To administer justice, rehabilitate juveniles, support and strengthen families, and promote public safety.

2. Open Letter

TO: The Citizens of Cuyahoga County
The Honorable Timothy Hagan, Jane Campbell, and Timothy McCormack
Commissioners of Cuyahoga County
The Honorable Geno Natalucci-Persichetti
Director, Ohio Department of Youth Services

During this past year, the Cuyahoga County Juvenile Court experienced important juvenile justice legislation, an increase in case volume, and detention center overcrowding. However, the Court also experienced the success of the Custody Mediation Program, a new mission statement, another American Correctional Association accreditation, and a new Court informational brochure.

Legislation went into effect on January 1, 1996, that has the most significant effect on juvenile delinquency proceedings since 1982. It represents a "get tough" response to real or perceived increases in the frequency and seriousness of juvenile crime. One of the main intents of the law is to increase the severity of sanctions that may be imposed against juvenile offenders. As a result of this legislation, the age for juveniles to be tried as adults was reduced from fifteen to fourteen years and transfer to Criminal Court for trial and tried as an adult was made mandatory under certain circumstances.

Nationally, overall crime has shown a downward trend, however juvenile crime is increasing. Locally, the total number of cases coming to the attention of the Court increased 8% over 1995, 19% over 1992, and 29% over 1986. Delinquencies, though 2% lower than 1995, are 15% higher than 1992 and 50% higher than 1986. Violent delinquency cases have risen 8.5% over 1995, and 30% and 70% over the past five and ten years, respectively. Abuse, neglect and dependency cases have also increased significantly, rising 26% from 1995 and 725% from a decade ago.

Even though an increase in cases does not necessarily affect the Detention Center population, considerable effort has been made to alleviate overcrowding in the facility. Strict adherence to admission guidelines has not prevented excessive population. In 1996, the average daily population in the Detention Center was 158.6, an increase of 5% over the 151 average in 1995. Studies have shown that the County may expect continued increases in delinquency cases, especially violent cases, thus requiring more residential space. Plans for a new Detention Center, with an increased number of beds, continue to move forward with assurances from the Cuyahoga County Commissioners that they are committed to building a new facility, and that State funds may be available to offset construction costs.

These concerns notwithstanding, the Court was able to put forth several positive accomplishments in 1996. One program was the Custody Mediation Program, designed to alleviate some of the burden private custody cases have on the Court. There were 452 cases referred by the Court, with a 60% resolution rate. Through the use of trained mediators, mediated cases require less formal court action. Funding for the program is provided by the Cleveland and Gund Foundations through the Cuyahoga County Bar Foundation. Administration of the program is conducted by the Cuyahoga County Bar Association.

After considerable discussion and revision, the Court was able to develop a new mission statement which appears on the front page of this report. It states the main purpose of the Court, which can be easily understood by staff and clients.

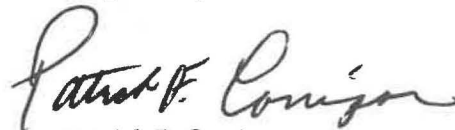

This year I am very pleased that Cuyahoga County Juvenile Court is the only court in the country to be awarded accreditation by the American Correctional Association for Administration of Correctional Agencies (Central Office). This required the Court to comply with 139 standards set by ACA professionals, covering administration, personnel, fiscal, training, management information and research, and volunteers. In May 1996, an accreditation committee unanimously agreed with the recommendations of the audit committee and awarded the accreditation to the Court. I congratulate the Court's staff for their hard work and dedication to improving the Court and its services.

Another positive accomplishment this past year was the completion of the Court's informational brochure funded and technically supported by the Cleveland Bar Association. While under the leadership of its past President, Robert Weber, and current President, Alan S. Kopit, the Bar was dedicated to the development of an informational system to inform the public about juvenile justice and particularly Cuyahoga County Juvenile Court. To this end they developed an informational video entitled, "Making Justice Work for Children," which has been used by the Court's speakers' bureau to address various community, school and religious groups interested in the Court and its activities. In addition an informational brochure has been developed to accompany the video. I believe the video and brochure provide the community with a better understanding of the Court and the importance of effective juvenile justice.

On behalf of the Cuyahoga County Juvenile Court, I want to acknowledge Judge Kenneth A. Rocco for his fourteen years as judge, and for his four years as Administrative Judge of this Juvenile Court. He brought respect to the Juvenile Court bench by his diligence, leadership and knowledge of children, law, and juvenile justice. These attributes will certainly benefit him in his new office as a judge for the Eighth District Court of Appeals. Furthermore, I want to thank Judge Peter M. Sikora for his past two years as Administrative Judge. During my tenure as Administrative Judge, I hope to build on the past administrations' successes and continue to work on the construction of a new detention facility and address overcrowding in the current Detention Center. I also want to take this opportunity to thank the members of the Court's Citizens Advisory Board and their efforts in assisting the Court to meet its obligations. This dedicated group of concerned citizens brings a variety of knowledge and experience which the Court, the Administration, and I greatly appreciate.

In compliance with Ohio Revised Code Section 2151.18, I submit the 1996 Annual Report of the Cuyahoga County Juvenile Court, which displays the number and kinds of cases, the dispositions, and other data pertaining to the work of the Court.

Respectfully,

Patrick F. Corrigan
Administrative Judge
Court of Common Pleas, Juvenile Division
Cleveland, Ohio
